Head of Office Mr. Mahendra Datranga, Superstition Eradication Committee, Nashik, Secretary Mr. Sudhir Dhumal, SEC, Mr. Sunil Desale were the chief guest for the Value Education Workshop. Principal Dr. J.D. Sonkhaskar felicitated the guests and welcomed the participants from the other colleges. Speaking on the occasion Mr. Mahendra Datranga said that superstitions should not be confused with traditions and customs that reflect the ethos of a country and often lead to upliftment of the society. Superstition is a blind belief which is totally baseless. Despite making advancement in science and technology, many of people have a strong conviction about these superstitions. Literacy and awareness are the main reasons of the superstitions. Mr. Sudhir Dhumal said that we should launch countrywide campaign against superstitions. We should take the help of social media too. Prin. Dr. Sonkhaskar said that the entire society should get awake and rise against the superstitions. We should develop a scientific temper to do away with superstitions. It should be taken as a serious challenge and we should fight it. NSS PO Mr. Vikram Kakulte, teaching and non-teaching staff and 280 NSS Volunteers actively participated in the work shop.

Epidemiological Survey on Bacterial Contamination of Paneer sample from Nashik region.

Deved

What is Epidemiology?

Epidemiology is the study of patterns, causes and effects of health and disease conditions in defined populations. It is the cornerstone of public health, and shapes policy decisions and evidence based practice by identifying risk factors for disease and targets for preventive healthcare. Epidemiologists help with study design, collection, and statistical analysis of data and interpretation and dissemination of results. Epidemiology has helped develop methodology used in clinical research, health studies, and to a lesser extent, basic research in the biological sciences.

Major areas of epidemiology study include disease etiology, transmission, outbreak investigations, disease surveillance and screening, biomonitoring, and comparisons of treatment effects such as in clinical trials. Epidemiologists rely on other scientific disciplines like biology to better understand disease process, statistics to make efficient use of the data and draw appropriate conclusions, social sciences to better understand proximate and distal causes, and engineering for exposure assessment.

Introduction:

Paneer is an important indigenous dairy product prepared by heat and acid coagulation of milk. According to Food Safety & Standard Authority of India FSSCI, paneer means the product obtained from cow or buffalo milk or combination therefore by precipitation with sour milk, lactic acid, or citric acid. It shall not contain more than 70% moisture and milk fat content shall not be less than 50% of the dry matter. Paneer has great value in diet because it is a rich source of high quality proteins, fats, minerals, and vitamins.

It is used widely as a base raw material for the preparation of various culinary dishes and snacks. Paneer is made up of proteins and fats, insoluble salts and colloidal materials, as well as part of the moisture of the original milk, which contains lactose, whey proteins, soluble salts, vitamins and other milk components. It is found that 4-5% of the total milk produced in India is converted into paneer. Paneer has a short life span of about 2-3 days at refrigeration storage without much deterioration in the quality, but freshness of the product is lost after

Hence, cold chain is a must for paneer marketing and at the retailer's end it has to full proof. The problem of quality maintenance of food products sold in market has been persisting for a long time. Unscrupulous entrepreneurs try to manipulate the paneer productions and quality with a sole intention of profit generation, disregarding consumer concerns. Gullible consumers are exploited because of their ignorance or their blind faith in the law enforcing agencies. However, for the controlling agencies like Ministry of Health and Family Welfare and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) comes, inspecting and monitoring the huge quantity of products sold in the market is by any means a daunting task. Ensuring quality food in market should actually be a consumer movement and pragmatic consumer courts.

Though food inspectors strive continuously monitor the food quality in the market. It is indeed an unenviable task keeping in view the number of brands, number of retailers, and vulnerability of our laws. Hence, it is the duty of all those concerned with food production, marketing, and consumer to keep a table on the quality of food products sold in the market. Academic and research institutions have to have to share this responsibility. This is so more in case of perishable food items like milk, paneer, etc. Survey works have been conducted time to time on the quality of food products in the market for example on paneer.

Objectives:

1. To assess the microbiological adequacy of Paneer sold at different locations /Area.
2. To evaluate and identify possible pathogenic microbes content in it.

INTRODUCTION

- Most probable number (MPN) analysis is a statistical method based on the random dispersion of microorganisms per volume in a given sample.
- In this method, measured volumes of water is added to a series of tube containing a liquid indicator growth medium.
- The media receiving one or more indicator bacteria show growth and a characteristic color change.
- Color change is absent in those receiving an inoculum of water without indicator bacteria.

PROCEDURES : FOR PRESUMPTIVE TEST

- Prepare MacConkey purple media of single and double strength in test tubes with Durham's tube and autoclave it.
- ↓
- Take three sets of test tubes containing five tubes in each set :one set with 10 ml of double strength (DS) other two containing 10 ml of single strength (SS) .
- ↓
- Using sterile pipettes , transfer 10 ml of water to each of DS broth tubes . Transfer 1 ml of water sample to each of 5 tubes of one set of SS broth and transfer 0.1 ml water to five tubes of remaining last set of SS broth tubes.
- ↓

- Incubate the tubes at 37°C for 24 hours.
- ↓
- After incubation , observe the gas production in Durham's tube and color change of the media.
- ↓
- Record the number of positive results from each set and compare with standard chart to give presumptive coliform count per 100 ml water sample.

Field Activity Project report -2019-2020

Every year Department of Microbiology is conducting epidemiological survey as a part of curriculum. Aim of this Study is to unravel the interaction between genetic and environmental factors in the development of multifactorial diseases, their concurrent development in individuals and their complications as a complex trait.

The objectives of this study are,

- (1) development of new testing and screening methods applicable to the wider community
- (2) prevention and early detection of diseases,
- (3) studying disease prevalence
- (4) quantitative description of natural histories.

This year topic for field research was “Epidemiological Survey on Bacterial Contamination of Paneer sample from Nashik region”. It is used widely as a base raw material for the preparation of various culinary dishes and snacks. Objective of the study was to assess the microbiological adequacy of Paneer sold at different locations /Area and to evaluate and identify possible pathogenic microbe's content in it.

26 students of T.Y.B.Sc participated in the above study under the guidance of Ms.Rayate P.S. and other staff members.

Visit Report (2019-20)

As a part of curriculum a visit of T.Y.B.Sc Microbiology was organized at Ashwamedh Engineers and Consultants and Metropolis Pathology Laboratory, Mahatmanagar on Jan 11, 2020.

26 students were first taken to Metropolis laboratories where they were guided by Mrs. Mahale and Mrs. Anita.

In the laboratory students were introduced to various automated equipments used in the laboratory such as Cobas 6000, an automated machine which has capacity to carry out 800 assays per hour.

Cobas 501 used for immunoassay of hormones T3, T4, and TSH etc.

Apart from this, fully automated ELISA test was also shown to the students. Along with this practical explanation for collection of various pathological samples, various agars that are commonly used for isolation of clinical pathogens, sample bottles for sample collections etc. was given by Mrs. Anita.

This visit was followed up by visit to Ashwamedh Engineers and Consultants where at first a documentary related to Ashwamedh Laboratories was shown to students. Dr. Aparna Pharande, Director of Ashwamedh Engineers and Consultants has also given motivational speech to the students

In laboratory students got to know working of various instruments such as LCMS, HPLC, GC Chromatography, Atomic Absorption Spectrophotometer.

Students also visited the food testing section, where the food is analyzed for over 200-300 parameters.

In Environmental Parameters Monitoring section, analysis of soil, oil, solid waste, carbon dioxide, oxygen is carried out. Effluent analysis is carried out by BOD and COD

Report Blood Donation (2015-16)

SVKT ASC College organized the blood donation camp on Saturday, 25/08/2015 in college campus. For organizing this camp 60 NCC cadets participated. A single donation can save three lives. One blood donation provides different blood components that can help up to three different people. Blood cannot be manufactured. Despite medical and technological advances, blood cannot be made, so donations are the only way we can give blood to those who need it. Blood is the most precious gift that anyone can give to another person the gift of life. A decision to donate your blood can save a life, or even several if your blood is separated into its components — red cells, platelets and plasma — which can be used individually for patients with specific conditions. Principal, Dr. Smt. J. D. Sonkhaskar, Capt. V. C. Badvar and Staff of our college took part in this activity.

Report of Bacteriological Analysis of Water 2019-20

Bacteriological Analysis of drinking water for its portability is our departmental yearly activity conducted by staff and students. Every year approximately 100 water samples from different sources are tested.

In academic year 2019-20, our department tested 100 water samples brought by Students who were participated in NSS camp. Along with this, water samples were also collected from the adopted village Lavhit. The collected samples were tested with the help of Most Probable Number test recommended by World Health Organization. About 20% of water samples were found to be non-potable. i.e. it contains a greater number of fecal coliforms than the permissible limit laid down by the WHO. Presence of these organisms in the water is an indication of presence of other gastrointestinal tract disease causing pathogens.

Following recommendations were given to the villagers:-

1. Use of water purifier.
2. Maintenance of Cleanliness near water storing premises.
3. Cleanliness of utensils and handling process.
4. Maintain personal hygienic conditions.

The outcome of above activity was to apply knowledge gained at field level, development of awareness among students and villagers regarding clean and safe drinking water and water related health hazards.

Total number of beneficiaries = 100
