All facilities are good but improve the best.....

Many people perceive science to be something tough and negative. Much is to be blamed to those movies and books that portray scientists to be nerdy. The teachers can play a big role in changing this view. They can tell students how science has changed the world and say interesting things about the subject. They can encourage the students by showing different scientific experiments.

Provide more than 5,6 books to science students.... In library.. Plzzz.
